Summary: A random piece of silliness, based on some Shining Armor art. The Prince decides the Crystal Empire needs a Ministry of Silly Walks. But does he has some ulterior motive?

Silly Walk, Crystal Style

**SILLY WALK, CRYSTAL STYLE**

Cadance raises an eyebrow as Shining Armor enters the throne room. He comes forward wobbling his flanks, gives two steps back, comes forward with both his left hooves making a big circle in the air, and wobbles again.

"Shining, why are you walking that way?"

"Oh, I just realized the Crystal Empire needs a Ministry of Silly Walks."

"Come again?"

"You see there's the Ministry of Harmony and Love, Defense, Health, Crystal Agriculture, Education, Foreign Affairs, Treasury, but no Silly Walks."

"I see." Said Cadance, trying to understand the situation. "And this is a problem because?"

"Oh, it is a problem. A huge overlook of our part. The Yaks have a guy who can throw his leg over his back with every single step. And don't let me start with what the Gryphons can do with an extra pair of limbs." Shining Armor does a kind of a measure to the throne, spins around himself, before sitting with greatest care. "So I decided to start our Silly Walk Program right away." He made a head signal to a guard, who let a Crystal Pony in. Shining Armor looked at a paper. "Mr. Pasture, is it?"

"Yes, your Highness. I am interested in Silly Walks, and I would like to obtain a treasury grant to develop it."

"May we see your silly walk?"

"Certainly, sir." The crystal pony walked around the throne room a couple of times.

"Well" Shining shook his head "it's not particularly silly, is it? The right front leg just does this forward aerial half turn every alternate step, and the other three legs are not silly at all."

"Yes, your Highness, but I think that with the Crown backing I can make it very silly."

"Mr. Pasture." Shining Armor got out of the throne, and started to wobble with more vigor. "We take Silly Walking seriously here, and we have only so much bits at our disposal. So, I suggest you study the subject a bit more, learn with the master of the past, maybe the French ponies!"

"La Marche Futile?"

"Yes, and when you have more subsidies and knowledge on the subject, come back and we'll discuss the grant."

"Thank you, your Highness." The crystal pony exit the room, while Shining Armor wobbled, bounced and trotted silly to his wife side. She rolled her eyes.

"Fine, fine, I got it." She produced a parchment and quill and wrote something down "I will no longer invite Trouble Shoes for our special nights."

"**Oh, thank you!**" said Shining, in a half-ironic tone, rubbing his butt.
